EDWARD J. FINLAY, Jr.

Edward J. Finley objected to paying $5 weekly alimony to his divorced wife as the court ordered. He said the mother would not allow him to see his son. The judge decided this would be an admission fee to see his son.

PAPA MUST PAY TO SEE HIS BABY THROUGH A WINDOW

Edward J. Finley must pay five dollars admission fee to see his own son, Edward J., Jr., five years old.

When the divorced husband of Mabel Finley wishes to see the baby, he must first pass the five dollars weekly alimony the court has ordered him to pay, through the window, to Mrs. Finley. The boy will then be passed out to the father for a visit. So ordered Judge Hall in Suffolk Superior Divorce Court.

SEPARATED YEAR.

Finley has not lived with his wife for a year. Last August she sued for non-support, and then for separate maintenance. The wife alleges the $5 a week her husband was

FINDS WIFE UNCONSCIOUS FROM GAS ON RETURN HOME

A defective gas jet may cost the life of Mrs. Gertrude V. Scott, 29, of No. 32 Dundee street, Back Bay.

Returning from work today, her husband, John M. Scott, found her unconscious on her bed with gas pouring from an overhead jet.

Examination disclosed that a shut-off connected with a chain had failed to work.

Physicians at City Hospital think she will survive although her condition is extremely serious.

5 STOWAWAYS ROASTED TO DEATH BY BOILERS

Philadelphia, June 14.—How five stowaways, who became trapped between coal bunkers and boilers on the sugar freighter Santa Theresa, while the vessel was on the way to Philadelphia from Cuba were virtually roasted to death by the scorching heat, was revealed when the vessel dropped anchor off quarantine. The story of their deaths was told by four other Cubans, who had stowed away with them when the Santa Theresa sailed from Havana, Friday. The survivors were almost speechless by five days of agony, when found not far from the bunker behind which the five victims had been trapped.

WOMAN HARDING LIBERATED AGAIN RUM LAW OFFENDER

Muskegon, Mich., June 14.—Mrs. Anna Hozer, whose jail sentence for violation of the liquor law was recently commuted by President Harding in order that she might go home to care for her eleven children and another which since has been born, was arrested again, charged with unlawful possession of liquor.

Issuance of the warrant followed acquittal in Circuit Court of Gustave Hozer, her husband, on a similar charge. Testimony introduced at Hozer's trial was that the liquor was obtained by his wife while he was away from home. Mrs. Hozer took Warren Harding Hozer, her three-months- old son, to jail with her.

The Ku Klux Klan was mentioned on the floor of the eighty-eenth convention of the National League of Mason Clubs for the first time today.

A slighting and casual reference made by Delegate Dexter of Washington, D. C., indicated more clearly than anything else the utter contempt which the convention holds for the invisible Empire.

Previous to the naming of the Klan, W. L. Terhune, president of Boston Masonic Club and chairman of the convention, told how Annie M. Acree was driven from the city by angered Masons.

Through leaders of the Washington delegation it became known that Acree, a highly respected member of the order in Washington until

NINE SLAIN IN BATTLE ON SHIP

Chinese Smuggling Craft a Bloody Shambles After Fierce Fight With Coolies

New York, June 14.—Nine men are dead and a Chinese smuggling schooner is a veritable shambles as the result of one of the fiercest battles between coolies and the crew of the craft ever recorded in the annals of United States immigration authorities here.

Facts of the fraud became known when the little windjammer, Mary Beatrice, arrived today with the wounded lying on her bloody decks. Among the dead were two white men, two negroes and five of twenty Chinese.

$500 SMUGGLING FEE.

According to information in possession of the United States immigration authorities, twenty Chinese were being smuggled into New York for a fee of $500 a piece.

The fight is said to have started when members of the crew attempted to rob the Chinese of their other funds, said to amount to thousands of dollars.

Three of the wounded are lying in an Ellis Island hospital.

The Mary Beatrice sailed from Havana on May 8. The captain of the

'BOMBO' GIRL ELOPES WITH COLLEGE STAR

New York, June 14.—Bernice Hart, who has been playing a leading part in "Bombo," eloped with Harold Bridgman, captain of the University of Pennsylvania polo team, and was married on May 24 at Elkton, Md.

The couple planned to keep the marriage a secret for several months, but the news became known. The bride then told her mother.

Miss Hart said the romance began three years ago when she attended the commencement dance at Culver Military Academy, at Culver, Ind., where young Bridgman was attending school.

MILLION MARKS FOR $10 AS FOOD PRICES SOAR

Berlin, June 14 (I.N.S.)—More than one million German marks could be purchased today with an American ten-dollar bill.

The increase in value of the dollar and the fresh plunge of the mark has created another rigid rise in prices of goods, especially foodstuffs.

IDENTIFIED IN COURT AS A PAYROLL BANDIT

Mrs. Hattie Zarra positively identified Edward R. Wallace and Herbert P. Shaughnessy in court today as the telephone payroll bandits in the $20,000 holdup at Paymaster A. Gaddis, April 6.

She said she saw them jump on the running board of the Gaddis car and then hop off, Shaughnessy carrying a bag. She saw them board another machine and drive away.

Furthermore, Mrs. Zarra said she saw the two defendants together in the neighborhood of the robbery four times in the three hours preceding the robbery, which made the fifth time.

Stillman A. Hardy, chauffeur of the Gaddis car, testified he was unable at police headquarters to identify positively Wallace and Shaughnessy as the bandits.

Shaughnessy and Wallace are on trial before Judge Lummus and jury in Suffolk Superior Criminal Court, charged with robbery while armed. Frank Tyner is charged as accessory before the fact.

Mrs. Zarra lives in an upper floor apartment at No. 941 Massachusetts avenue, corner of Lansdowne street, where the hold-up was staged.

At Charles street jail eighteen men were lined up before her. Witness said that she picked out Wallace and Shaughnessy in the line as the men she saw on the Gaddis car. She had never seen any of the other men.

Judge Lummus asked her whether she had seen any newspaper pictures, purporting to be those of the payroll bandits, prior to making her jail identification. She said she had not.

Mrs. Zarra's testimony was proved by that of Stillman Hardy, the Gaddis chauffeur.

BANDITS' OPPORTUNITY.

Hardy, who lives at No. 40 Josephine avenue, Somerville, said in direct testimony that a little boy and girl were playing in the street at Massachusetts avenue and that the payroll automobile had to slow up to avoid them. The bandits took advantage of this to jump on the running board and commit the holdup described yesterday in detail by Gaddis.

In cross-examination by John P. Feeney, of counsel for defense, Hardy said that later he was taken to police headquarters, where fifteen men were lined up before him. He could not identify any one as the bandits.

"Why not?" asked Attorney Feeney.

"Because I was told to make absolutely sure," replied Hardy, "and I was not."

HAZY ON DESCRIPTION.

Hardy said he was unable to describe the clothing of the bandit who held a weapon to his head except that he wore a light cap well back on the head.

Attorney Feeney brought out that published descriptions of the bandits failed to tally with appearance of Shaughnessy and Wallace; also that Hardy had made no effort to correct that discrepancy.

Parents Murdered by Bolsheviks, Russian Girl Seeking Work in Factory Here

Nineteen-year-old Sonia Spector of Mattapan, Russian refugee, who fled to this country to escape Bolsheviks [illegible] her parents were slain, met death in Cambridge today in her [illegible] ride on an elevator.

Accounts of the manner of death differ. She started to go to her fourth floor of the factory of the Chester Manufacturing Company at No. 611 Massachusetts avenue.

ATTORNEY McCALLUM IN FIST FIGHT

Atty. William Shaw McCallum, member of the Massachusetts Bar, staged a short, lively one-round fist fight in the corridors of the Pemberton Square Court House today. His opponent was Joseph C. Leighton, defendant in a non-support case which Atty. McCallum was prosecuting. The parties had just emerged from the court room. McCallum accosted Leighton and mumbled something. Leighton retorted: "If you were outside, Mr. McCallum, you wouldn't say that. I'd swing on you." Attorney McCallum, who is much larger physically that Leighton, slapped the other's face. Leighton countered with a lunge at McCallum, and registered a blow.

his bold attempt to foist Klanism on the convention, had been excoriated by his fellow townsmen and subjected to humiliation seldom meted out to a fellow member.

Ostracized and shunned, Acree, broken in spirit, is reported as having cringed before the biting verbal attacks of former friends he confronted in the corridor of the Hotel Lenox, from whence he fled.

Rumors of the driving of Acree from the city by club members, infuriated at the attempt to stir religious and racial strife, were virtually substantiated by President Terhune.

"Acree was humiliated to such extent here that he was obliged to leave town and return to Washington," Mr. Terhune said. "Our expose of him was too great for him to bear."

The Washington delegation felt deeply the stigma brought on by Acree's attempt to circulate Klan propaganda.

In opening his address today in support of the establishment of a national headquarters of the organization at Washington Delegate Dexter said:

"The Washington delegation has been placed before you in an improper light by some means or other.

"I feel it necessary to state the position of the Washington delegation and deny flat-footed the accusations which have been made against us.

"It was charged yesterday that the Washington bunch came up here to get a building and had a candidate for president of the league.

"We are building the most magnificent temple in the world right now. We have no candidates. We are not officeseekers.

"We have been accused of promoting the wishes of the Ku Klux Klan. I do not think it is necessary to deny that.

"We have been accused of radicalism. It is not true."

The delegates were brought to their feet when, as the convention opened, the forty-six-piece band of Banner, the Lambskin Club of Philadelphia, all police and firemen, marched in the hall playing the Star Spangled

HARDING URGES ALL TO SING THE U. S. ANTHEM

Washington, June 14.—President Harding urged the American Legion's fine conference, opening here today, to adopt a code of rules and regulations for the proper display of the flag and to include a provision that every American citizen should learn to sing the national anthem, "The Star Spangled Banner."

"I have noted audiences singing—I should say trying to sing—the American national air, but outside of about two per cent, they are only mumbling or pretending to sing," said the President. "I would like to have the spirit of America show itself in song. I hope you will insist upon some suitable provision to that end in your code."

Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, also advocated a more widespread respect for the stars and stripes.

Memorial ceremonies commemorating the conception of "Old Glory" 146 years ago comprised Washington's Flag Day program today, with veterans of the Mexican, Civil, Spanish and World Wars taking part.

The President has prepared greetings to be read tonight at exercises at the Capitol, under the auspices of the Department of the Potomac, Grand Army of the Republic and its Woman's Relief Corps.

stoves to learn English so she could get work quicker.

She went to the Chester factory today for work. Her aunt went to act as interpreter.

Sophie was in high hopes of getting the coveted job. She was a bit timorous about the elevator, a new device to her Russian eyes.

Four other girls were in the car. There is a door to the elevator well on each floor. The car has a heavy two-bar gate which automatically rises when the car is stopped at each floor level and descends as the car is started again. This is to keep passengers from the front wall of the well.

When Sophie Spector collapsed or was knocked down to the floor of the car, just after it started, the other girls screamed hysterically. Workers on nearest floors came running to the elevator door.

ordered to pay was never received. Recently Mrs. Finley brought suit for divorce, alleging non-support.

When Mrs. Finley asked for a divorce and alimony, Judge Hall granted the divorce decree, but refused to grant alimony until he had talked with Finley, who was not in court. Mrs. Finley left the court to find Finley, whom she had not seen since August.

On her way home she saw her long-absent husband clerking in a Washington street store, and obtained a warrant for his immediate arrest.

"She refused to let me see the boy," Finley told the court, "and I won't pay her any money until she does let me see him."

"He'll have to pay me the money before he can see the boy," answered Mrs. Finley.

"You can slip the $5 bill through the window, and she can hand the baby out for a visit," decided the court.

HAGEN TURNS IN CARD OF 76

morrow and the winner will be the golfer whose card shows the best aggregate medal score for the seventy-two holes.

Leo Diegel of Washington, D. C., the first of the Americans to finish the morning round of eighteen holes, brought in a card of 80. Diegel's drives and approaches were crisp and direct, but his putting was weak.

Closely following Diegel were Angel De La Torre 78, Ted Ray 79, Abe Mitchell 76 and Gene Tunnell 81.

Walter Hagen struck off at 10 o'clock for his first eighteen, but not as the popular favorite he was four days ago. MacDonald Smith, California, seems to be regarded as the greatest threat among the remaining five Americans.

Hagen got his 76 on the morning round by playing well, except for his putting, until he was bunkered on the short seventeenth, where he took a 4. On the eighteenth his second shot found Bunker and he was barely out in 3. Then he missed an eighteen-inch putt and took a 6 for the hole.

Hagen's card:

Out..... 6 4 4 4 3 5 4 4 4—37
In..... 4 4 4 4 3 5 5 4 6—39—76

Johnny Farrell of the American team negotiated the morning round in 78—out in 40 and in in 38.

C. A. Whitcombe, a twenty-year-old professional from Bath, led the field with a score of 76 when all the players had completed the first half of the first round this noon. Last year at Sandwich Whitcombe finished fifth in the open championship with a score of 303 for the 72 holes, and in the qualifying round for this tournament he was one of the three who led the field with aggregates of 146 for the 36 holes.

Macdonald Smith, the Californian, from whom much was expected, turned in an indifferent card of 80. George Aulbach, of Boston, was among the high scorers with 85.

Joe Kirkwood played a fine round for a 72 and George Duncan was right behind him with 73. Cyril Tolley, the amateur, went around in 81.

BERLIN MUST END RUHR SABOTAGE

Brussels, June 14 (AP).—A joint reply by all the Allies to the last German reparation note is regarded in official circles here as likely to be sent.

The exchange of views between the capitals of the allied powers is continuing, with Belgium and France making it clear they consider it indispensable that Germany makes an official declaration disavowing acts of sabotage and shootings in the Ruhr and inviting the population of the valley to refrain from any overt act toward the occupying troops.

PILING UP CARS TO HANDLE FALL FREIGHT

Washington, June 14.—Railroads anticipating a tremendous movement of food products and fuel during the Fall months, are now taking unprecedented steps to prepare themselves. Between April 16 and June 8, 41,000 empty box cars were turned over by Eastern railroads to Western lines and are being parked on side tracks of the central belts. Railroads are now sending approximately 3,000 empty cars a day through Chicago and St. Louis. Between January 1 and June 1, 65,880 new freight cars were delivered, while 107,079 are in process of manufacture.

LYNN FUND TO PROBE AUTO SHOOTING

Hundreds of Lynn high school boys and girls are raising a "defence fund" for young Frank Bemis, driver of the automobile into which "Lightning Jack" Hayes, Beverly police chief, fired a shot that wounded two high school students.

The fund was started when Bemis, a Technology student, was served with a summons ordering him to appear in Salem District Court on June 19 to answer charges of not having a driver's license, with refusing to stop when signalled by officers and with reckless driving.

The "defence fund" money will be used in defraying lawyer's fees and to pay whatever fine might be imposed on Bemis by the court.

While the Lynn high school students were busy collecting funds, Edward S. Underwood, attorney for Miss Evelyn Spinney, the girl who was shot, announced he will not wait for grand jury indictment in the case against "Lightning Jack" but will apply for a criminal warrant.

Frank Bemis, driver of the car, has also retained Underwood to defend him and to prosecute Hayes, if possible.

50 ENJOINED IN DETROIT AREA IN DRY LAW

Detroit, June 14 (AP).—The Federal government's clean-up of the liquor situation in Detroit district was begun here today, when injunctions were issued in United State District Court against the proprietors of approximately fifty places in the Detroit district where liquor is alleged to have been sold.

An effort will be made, it was announced by government agents, to close these places for one year under the State padlock law.

A group of Federal officers was detailed to serve injunctions immediately. Other injunctions are to be issued by the score, it was stated by United States District Attorney Earl R. Davis.

"The government is going to end the promiscuous traffic in liquor in this part of the country," he added.

BANKERS COMMEND RESERVE SYSTEM

Atlanta, Ga., June 14.—The Federal Reserve Banking System was warmly defended at the convention of the National Association of Credit Men in the report of the National committee on banking and currency, as well as in the address of J. GERMAN CAPITAL ON MOVE TO HOLLAND

Berlin, June 14.—Dutch lawyers are working day and night on the incorporation of dummy companies to hold the big German industrial stocks, according to the Morgenpost, which declares that the Dutch incorporators are simply straw men for the German industrial financiers.

The paper attacks the Finance Minister for permitting the procedure, and says an American aunt cannot send $2 to a German nephew or niece without needing a protocol, but millions can be slipped into Holland undetected.

$1 000,000 LOSS BY OKLAHOMA FLOOD

Tulsa, Okla., June 14.—Tulsa is emerging from the grip of the Arkansas River flood which inundated industrial West Tulsa and the populous suburban district between here and Sand Springs. Today the river had receded a foot and a half from the high point of 19.8 feet. It will be several days before all of the 5,000 refugees return to their homes. They are being cared for by relief agencies.

The flood damage will be $1,000,000. Three lives were lost.

FOOD RUNS LOW.

Food had run low. All hands aboard had become surly.

As night fell, according to the tale by the survivors, the white man called out:

"Number one China boy come here."

One Chinese understood. He stepped forward.

"We want $250 from each of you," the crew leader told the Chinese, the interpreter says.

With that three negroes and two white men sought to go through the pockets of the Chinese leader.

"They were armed," the interpreters say. "Two of the white men had rifles. The negro cook carried a butcher knife and the other two had razors.

"The Chinese, unwilling to part with the money gave fight. The white men emptied their rifles—two Chinese fell dead.

"That was the signal for battle," the Chinese explained.

Two Chinese had secured axes from the hold.

Hurling themselves into the lead of the fray the two axe men cut their way to the little ship's rail. The others fought hand to hand.

Of the fifteen Chinese remained alive, the right hand of one is severed at the wrist.

Another has four bullet wounds and bullet scars.

SAILOR BADLY HURT WHEN HIT BY TRUCK

William Mason, sixty-four years old, of the steamship Harvey Brown, now at Simpson's drydock, East Boston, was struck by an auto truck while crossing Commercial street. Mason was taken to the Haymarket relief station, where he was found to be seriously injured.

PATIENTS BLAMED FOR "T. B." FAILURES

Pittsfield, June 14.—Many tuberculosis patients ruin their own chances for a complete cure, some of them even courting death, by refusing to take the cure of fresh air, rest and proper food, "long enough or hard enough," according to Dr. George E. Thank Heaven, for Peace Railroads Pay, if — Storks and Chickens You Should Live to 120

—By Arthur Brisbane—

Copyright, 1928, Hearst Co.

LI YUAN HUNG of China is fleeing from Peking to get away from his troops, and the troops threaten to loot the city.

Stamboulisky, until lately ruler of Bulgaria, is also in flight, to get away from his troops.

England and France seem not far from the breaking point, in connection with the Ruhr invasion.

Is it not prudent and wise for the United States to stay inside the United States, letting Europe, Asia and Africa manage their various troubles?

OUR PRESIDENT is safe and secure. Nobody is chasing him. Our problems are all susceptible of settlement by ourselves. We don't need any World Court or League of Nations to tell us what to do or how to do it. You may thank kind heaven for that.

EXCITING NEWS here for the select few is an increase in the dividend of the great New York Central Railroad system to 7 per cent, and a comforting jump in the price of the stock. One hundred thousand shares were bought and sold by somebody in two hours yesterday morning. Apparently railroads can earn money, if you let them charge enough.

IF FAKE STOCKS were like chickens, how happy foolish little investors would be!

Jacob Mazo goes to Jerusalem, taking 300 prize United States hens. He thinks a chicken farm will pay in Palestine, and means to try it. Philosophically, he says: "I can't lose anyhow. If the hens don't lay in Palestine, I shall kill and eat them."

If only the oil stocks and other fraudulent stocks in which little people invest could be killed and eaten when they fail to pay dividends?

DR. WILLIAMS, distinguished British scientist, says every man with common sense should live to 120. We know less than animals, for they know how to feed themselves, says he. He thinks the Bible text about three score and ten has done much harm. Men get ready to die about seventy, and theydo die.

OTHER ANIMALS live to ten times the age at which they reproduce their species, or even twenty times and more. Men will live to 140 one day.

It is just as well they should die young now, for while they are still young their brains get hard and refuse to accept new ideas—they might as well die and start over.

PIERRI LOTI, a French writer and admirer of the Turks, is dead. France will pay for his funeral, but is in doubt about carrying out Loti's request that his body be embalmed, in the Egyptian fashion. Loti imagined himself the reincarnation of the Pharaoh Rameses II., and looked like him.

THE BEST USE for your body is to leave it for scientists to dissect and study, but that shocks us, as we are still superstitious barbarians.

The next best and the tidiest thing is to have the body cremated. That saves trouble. The third plan is to be buried in a fruit orchard and let the trees get the benefit of nature's process.

SOME FEAR THAT cremation would prevent resurrection in the flesh. But the power that could collect the body from ten thousand devouring worms could also collect it from the air. One miracle is no more difficult than another.

IT IS SAID FRANCE will send a warship here to supply French boats with wine for sailors and other drinks for passengers. The battleship may come inside the three-mile limit, or into our harbors on his merciful errand, inasmuch as prohibition officials cannot board a war vessel.

It is a difficult and rather preposterous situation trying to force opinions and habits of one nation upon another.

BATTLE IS WON BY TENANTS

Vigorous Protest Brings Decrease by Owners of the Albemarle Apartments

Protests by thirty-six families against rent increases ranging from $10 to $30 a month, today resulted in decreases of $5 in the rental of apartments at the Albemarle Chambers, Albemarle street, Back Bay.

Merritt Stegman and Morris Silverstein, new owners of the property, informed a half dozen of the tenants that $5 would be lopped off the original advance demanded a fortnight ago, two days after they had purchased the property.

The tenants now plan to get Stegman and Silverstein to make repairs.

Backed by the Mayor's Rent and Housing Commission, the tenants insist that holes in the walls be patched, that rooms be repapered and that walls and woodwork be repainted.

They also demand that the owners take some immediate means of ridding the place of rats.

Stegman and Silverstein have admitted the need of repairs and have promised to make them immediately, they say, the tenants say. In letters to some of the residents they justified their demands for more money by telling of the increased cost of materials and labor.

Dorchester Owner Defends Eviction

John R. Wenzler, of No. 645 Second street, South Boston, owner of the house at No. 1948 Dorchester avenue, Dorchester, denies that he evicted the family of Mr. and Mrs. James R. Dougan, from the house because of objection to children, religious prejudice and failure to pay a raise in rent, as it was alleged.

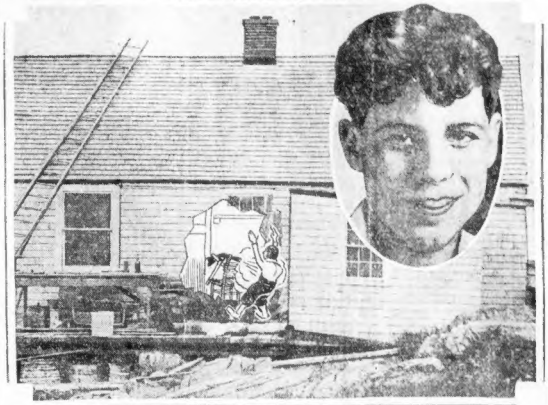
"James R. Dougan was ejected for non-payment of rent and negligence in the use of the property, and not for any of the other causes mentioned," he said.

"The rent was never raised. I have no objection to children and never have had, no matter how large the family.

"At the time I bought the house James R. Dougan owed money to the two previous landlords.

"I am willing to give him a lease at this time on his paying the rental at the end of each month. He must use the premises in a tenant-like manner. The rent will be $35, which is the amount he has paid in the past and the same that I have always charged him."

HOW GUN TRAP KILLED BOY



SCENE OF THE FATAL SHOOTING ON MIDDLE BREWSTER ISLAND

When Victor Ciarmatatio sought to enter the shack for a drink of water a gun exploded, killing him almost instantly. The shotgun was fastened to a chain and so rigged that if the building was entered it would be discharged. Inset is sixteen-year-old victim of the tragedy.

GUN TRAP DEATH IS LAID TO CARETAKER

Hjalmar Roos, forty-six years old, caretaker at Middle Brewster Island, where a sixteen-year-old North End boy was killed by a trick gun arrangement in a shack, was arrested by the harbor police on a charge of manslaughter in connection with the boy's death.

Roos is employed as caretaker by Karl Adams, treasurer of the Boston, Revere Beach & Lynn Railroad, who owns the island and has a Summer residence near Roos' cottage. Mr. Adams, when informed of the boy's death by a trap gun, said he did not know of his employe's methods for taking care of the property. He expressed his great regret.

Roos was arraigned today in Abington district court and the case was continued until June 29 by Judge Kelly at request of the prisoner's counsel, Thomas Kelly, attorney for the Narrow Gauge. Bail was then fixed at $4000, surety was furnished by Mr. Adams.

The tip that Roos was making his way to City Point in a boat came from Chief Reynolds of the Hull police. Roos' arrest followed.

Victor Ciarmatatio, the dead youth, was killed by the shotgun trap as he sought to enter the shack to get a drink of water.

The youth with his father, Salvatore, and his brother, Joseph, had gone fishing down the harbor in their motorboat. After they had landed on Middle Brewster's Island, Victor went to the shack.

A moment later the father and brother, who had remained behind, heard the report of a gun. They ran to the house and found Victor lying beneath a half-opened window, wounded.

Running into the house to investigate, Joseph found a rifle on the floor. The rifle was still warm and bore evidence of having just been discharged. Attached to the trigger of the gun was a string which in turn was attached to a board fastened to the window.

Honor Nation's Flag on 146th Birthday

This is Flag Day.

Wear a flag on the lapel of your coat and fly the Stars and Stripes from your home.

This is the 146th anniversary of the flag.

Army and navy and patriotic organizations are observing the day with fitting exercises, the crowning feature of which will be the fireworks display tonight at 11 o'clock on Boston Common.

In view of the general confusion on questions of flag etiquette, Frederic W. Cook, Secretary of State, has issued a book on the subject. Here are some of the extracts:

FLAG RULES.

"When the flag is passing on parade, or in review, if you are walking, halt; if sitting, rise; stand at attention and uncover.

"The flag should never be worn as the whole or part of a costume. As a badge, it should be worn over the left breast.

"In decorating, the flag should never be fastened or draped; always hung flat. If hung perpendicularly, Union should be right upper corner.

"When the National flag and another flag fly from the same people, these should be double halyards, one for each flag.

"When carried in parade, or when crossed with other flags, the Stars and Stripes should always be at right.

AS AN ALTAR COVERING.

"When the flag is used in unveiling a statue or monument it should not be allowed to fall to the ground, but should be carried aloft to wave out, forming a distinctive feature during the remainder of the ceremony.

"When a flag is placed over a bier or casket the field should be at the head.

As an altar covering, the Union should be at the right as you face the altar, and nothing should be placed upon the flag except the Holy Bible.

WOMEN TO WAGE WAR ON BOOZE

Mrs. Peabody of Beverly Leads a Nation-Wide Drive to Enforce Volstead Act

Ten million American women, led by Mrs. Henry Peabody of Beverly Farms, are organizing today for the purpose of enforcing the Volstead act, and combatting any future efforts in Congress to liberalize it.

Tomorrow the International Committee of Law Enforcement, with representatives from various women's organizations throughout the country, will meet with Mrs. Peabody in New York to perfect the organization of a committee which will affiliate with churches, clubs and temperance societies.

An active campaign to create sentiment in favor of the strict enforcement of the law will be planned.

According to Mrs. Fred L. Bennett of Englewood, N. J., one of the first acts of the committee will be an effort by New York women to have Governor Smith reconvene the State Assembly for the purpose of passing a dry enforcement act.

Mrs. Peabody, whose estate at Beverly Farms, Parramatta, served as the Summer White House during the Taft administration, is president of the Women's Boards for Foreign Missions. She has been chairman of the National Committee of Deputations to the Orient, vice-president of the American Women's Foreign Missionary Society and was prominent a few years ago in the Interchurch World Movement.

She said:

"It is conceivable that Americans shall pick and choose what laws they shall obey. Patriotism demands that no shall be loyal to the laws of the land as they exist."

Organize "Volstead Vigilantes" in South

New Orleans, June 14—Plans were made today to extend into every parish in the State a new secret order, the Volstead Vigilantes.

That the society will appeal mostly to women was forecast inasmuch as the organization here is composed of 400 women and 100 men. The order is not confined to any religious sect or class or persons, O. D. Jackson, federal prohibition director of the State, announced.

Members will not be permitted to conduct raids, and it will not be necessary for them to testify in court, unless they so wish. Their service will be to inform the authorities of the operation of illicit stills, location of "blind tigers," and the movement of rum trucks.

OIL MAN HELD FOR TRIAL IN MEXICO

Mexico City, June 14—William H. Healy, Mexican manager of the Huron Oil Corporation, is held for trial charged with calumny and defamation in connection with charges preferred by the Huasteca Petroleum Company.

Healy was detained Saturday and was held overnight and released in bail of 5,000 pesos through the efforts of Fernando Ros, chief counsel for the Pierce Corporation, and also one of the Mexican commissioners in the recognition negotiations.

Quebec Forest Fire Destroys 2 Towns

Quebec, June 14—"Frightful" was the way Chief Forester Piche today described forest fire conditions in Temiscouata County.

Blazes yesterday destroyed the prosperous villages of Glendyn and Silly. In addition the flames wiped out several saw mills, a score of scattered dwellings, numerous barns and great tracts of timber.

Presque Isle, Me., June 14—Rain was falling today, thus relieving temporarily the critical forest fire situation in Aroostook County and along the New Brunswick border, particularly at Masardis, the centre of fires at points extending for 250 miles along the Ashland branch of the Bangor & Aroostook Railroad.

There had been no rain in this section for nearly three weeks.

Ashland, Me., June 14—More than 1,000 men, women and children, inhabitants of the town of Masardis, abandoned their homes and fled, frantic with fear, before the advance of a 50-mile wall of flame.

The fire stretching from Masardis to Nuyoke Mills, is fast approaching the little town and threatens to wipe out every building. Lighted by the light glare of the blaze less than a mile away, the fleeing natives made their way along the railroad tracks, there to await the arrival of special relief trains to carry them to safety.

The town of Masardis is eight miles north of Ashland, the town that was destroyed by the fire with a loss of approximately $10,000.

Freight trains of the Ashland branch of the Bangor and Aroostook Railroad were greatly speeded by the intense heat of the fire while passing through Griswold and Howe Brook.

U. S. PLANS WORK FOR IDLE PRISONERS

Washington, June 14.—What to do with more than 6,500 idle Federal prisoners in Atlanta, Leavenworth and McNeil Island, Washington, prisons was the problem before a joint committee of Congress. The trend of official opinion as to the best solution of the problem appears to be the employment of the prisoners to manufacture articles that the government must annually purchase in large quantities such as shoes, furniture, blankets and sheets.

PAIR, REUNITED AFTER 30 YEARS, PLAN TO WED

Fearing the disapproval of relatives, Mabery Kinney, forty-nine years old, a widower, and Mrs. Jennie Carr, fifty-two years old, a divorcee, sought to be married secretly.

They journeyed to Providence, filed marriage intentions and returned to arrange for the wedding.

Mrs. Jennie Carr

The couple were unperturbed, however, when their plans for secrecy miscarried.

"It may as well come out now as later," they remarked.

Kinney is a well known Chelsea hotel man, proprietor of the Chelsea House. Both gave their present address as the Chelsea House. Kinney has two daughters living in Boston, while Mrs. Carr has three sons and three daughters in Portland. All of the children had been kept in ignorance of the couple's plans.

Kinney and Mrs. Carr are childhood acquaintances. The two met recently after thirty years of separation.

THIEF WHO ROBBED BLIND MAN GETS SLEEPER'S $10

Worcester, June 14 — Fred Gilbeault, No. 61 Piedmont street, who was convicted in court several weeks ago when a blind man identified him by grasping his arm and wrist as the thief who robbed him while he lay in a dormitory in a Southbridge street rooming house, was arrested again by railroad Detective Sergeant George Cloutier. Cloutier was looking into the Union Station waiting room and saw Gilbeault, he says, tiptoe over to Herbert Albert, who lay asleep on one of the benches waiting for a train, and twice slip his hand into Albert's pocket, taking a wallet and a $10 bill, found in Gilbeault's possession.

BOSTON SCHOOL CADETS HOLD POSTPONED PARADE TODAY

8000 BOYS IN ANNUAL REVIEW

English High Has Honor Place at Head of Big Procession

Stepping with the cadence and alignment of World War veterans more than 8,000 Boston High School Cadets today marched through Boston's downtown streets to Boston Common in their annual parade and review.

This event was postponed last Friday because of rain. Many of the boys were downhearted because, in former years, if a school parade was not held on the day scheduled it was not held at all and this is the first time in the history of the Boston School Cadets that it has been postponed.

E. H. S. LEADS PARADE.

Thousands of friends and relatives of the youths lined the streets as the youngsters swung down the line of march to the martial music of twelve bands and drum corps.

The honor of leading the parade is awarded each year to a different school. The English High School Cadets, comprising two regiments and a drum corps and band, headed the line this year. The parade started from Clarendon street and Columbus avenue at 9:30 a.m. and marched over the following route: Columbus avenue to Boylston street, to Tremont, to Bromfield, to Washington, to School, to Beacon, to Charles street, to Boston Common.

REVIEW BY SCHOOL BOARD.

English High School has the largest number of cadets in its regiment of any of the Boston schools, while Commerce High comes in a close second.

The cadets were reviewed by members of the school committee, army officers and thousands of relatives and friends. Prominent army officers who also viewed the parade are special guests of Lieutenant Colonel Charles J. Ranlett, U. S. Infantry, who has charge of the military instruction in the high schools of this city.

Among them are Colonel M. G. Sinks, head of the first section general staff, First Corps Area, U. S. A.; Colonel George Williams, U. S. A., who commanded the Citizens' Military Training Camp at Devens last Summer; Colonel Frank C. Boiles, who will have charge of the Citizens' Training Camp at Devens this Summer; Colonel James J. Fitzgerald, head of the 203d Regiment Reserves, and Captain John C. MacDonald, U. S. A.

KEEFE CHIEF MARSHAL.

The entire parade was in charge of Colonel Leo J. Keefe, chief marshal, with a rank of major general. He is from the Boston Latin High School, the winner of the first prize at the competitive drill held in the East Armory among all the Boston high schools. He was assisted by Colonel George A. Mulvey, High School of Commerce, commanding the second brigade; Colonel Joseph McKenney of the Brighton High School, Colonel H. H. Sargent and Lieutenant Colonel J. J. Foley, both of English High School, and many other officers from the district schools.

The cadets were reviewed at City Hall by Mayor Curley and other notables. Governor Channing H. Cox and Lieutenant Governor Alvan T. Fuller reviewed the marchers from the State House steps, as in former years.

WOMAN FOUND DEAD, RAZOR IN HER HAND

Fall River, June 14.—The body of Mrs. Elizabeth Brownell, sixty-two years old, was found with the head nearly severed in her home on Bluff avenue. Police declare the woman a suicide following ill-health. A razor was in her hand.

Stillman Affinity

MRS. JOSEPH T. TALBERT

Reports from Paris are to the effect that James A. Stillman, millionaire banker, and Mrs. Talbert are seen daily together in the French capital.

Man Found Senseless

John J. Tynan, forty-five years old, of No. 638 East 4th street, South Boston, was found in an unconscious condition on the sidewalk at West Second and Granite streets, South Boston. He was removed to the City Hospital.

RESINOL

HERMIT SLAYER SUSPECT ON HIGH SEAS

Providence, R. I., June 14.—Harold A. White, who is wanted by the police in connection with the murder of James M. Sutton, wealthy Warwick recluse on June 1, last, planned to ship as a seaman on the oil tanker Swift Star of the Mallory to get money to go to Mexico.

White confided his plans to his two sweethearts, Miss Pearl Briggs, governess to the home of the Rev. Truman P. Fisher of Leominster, and Miss Rose McCooey of Woonsocket.

To Miss Briggs, White confided his plans both by letter and by telephone. He met Miss McCooey in Providence, told her of his proposed departure and showed her a diamond set in a woman's ring.

The two girls notified the police when they learned White was being sought on a murder charge.

"I would like to give you this ring," White told Miss Cooey, showing it to her, "but I have to sell it all to get money to go to Mexico."

White which left Providence June 8 for San Pedro, California.

MALDEN MAN LOST IN PARIS; POLICE HUNT FOR SEAMAN

Paris, June 14 (1 A.M.).—The United States consulate today requested the Paris police to seek Harry Wyllys Sugar of Malden, Mass., an American seaman, who has been missing since June 7 when he failed to appear to participate in memorial exercises with a detachment of fifty marines from the American cruiser Pittsburgh.

This was Sugar's first visit to Paris. Officials here fear he met with some mishap through the attractions of Paris night life.

DENIED FATHERHOOD, KIDNAPS GIRL

EX-CAPTAIN RETURNS HER AFTER THREE DAYS OF LOVE

New York, June 13.—Denied the privilege of being a father, Captain Huber F. Jennings, formerly a Shipping Board inspector, sought to make up this great void in his life by kidnaping eight-year-old Ruth Snelling from her home in Brooklyn.

He kept the child with him three days on a journey to Philadelphia himself up to the police on the and Washington, after which he charge of kidnaping, which is being wrote a letter to the girl's mother, investigated by the Kings County explaining his reason for stealing Grand Jury.
the child.

REFUSES TO SURRENDER.

In the letter Captain Jennings implied that he did not intend to give

Captain Jennings said that while he was at the home of Mrs. Hanna Price at No. 1635 65th street, Brooklyn, he had become fond of Ruth and her playmate, Mrs. Price's son, Buster, ten years old.

"Ruth seemed to be just the sort of babe I had been wanting all my life," said Jennings. "You cannot know the feeling of a man who has wanted babes all his life and never had one, then all of a sudden to be greeted every night by two wonderful babes with hugs and kisses. It was wonderful. Do you wonder that I learned to love them?"

Captain Jennings said that when he left the home of Mrs. Price he drove to Boston to obtain a job, and failing to get it, he came back through Brooklyn to get some papers. He met Ruth and asked her if she wanted to go with him.

"Speaking the truth," the letter continued, "after I had her with me for a day or two, I had a mind to keep her always and would have done so, but in the newspapers I read that you said you thought she was in loving hands and that you were not worried.

"Then I thought I would not be loving her right unless I returned her to you. She gave me three days of a child's love. I'll never forget that, nor Ruth. Some day I'll ask your forgiveness. I'll plead guilty to loving Ruth. I hope you will not be cross with her, as she is a daughter to be proud of. Please give her a father's love for me."

Women Seem to Walk Backward in New Gowns

Paris, June 14.—The fashion arbiters have decreed something really new for the late Summer and Autumn styles. The gowns now being finished in the exclusive establishments feature the fullness in the front of the gown. Three years ago the fullness was confined to the back of the gown. Last year flaring hips featured the dresses, but now, by skillfully arranged tucks and flounces, the fullness of the front is to be accentuated. The women with the flowing robes trailing in the wind will be out of style by September.

It will take "spectators" some little time to get used to this style, which looks as if the wearer were walking backwards.

FRENCH RECALL WRECK COSTING 350 LIVES

Paris, June 14.—A railroad accident which cost 350 lives and yet remained unknown to the general public because of wartime censorship will be commemorated on Sunday at St. Michel-en-Maurienne when Minister of War Maginot unveils a monument to the dead.

A trainload of 500 soldiers on leave after fighting on the Piave beside their Italian allies left Modane, in Savoie, on November 12, 1917. The engineer said the train was too heavy to cross the mountains and refused to start until he received an order from his military superior.

He fear proved to be well founded and his engine went wild in descending into the valley. The only effect of the air brakes was to set the cars on fire, and the train crashed into the stone bridge near the entrance to the station at St. Michael-en-Maurienne. Less than 150 soldiers were taken out, all of whom were more or less seriously injured. Of the others, those who did not lose their lives in jumping, burned to death.

TURF MARVEL SHOWN BY INTERNATIONAL

Striking pictures of Zev, the newest marvel of the turf, winning the $50,000 Belmont stakes at Belmont Park, N. Y., are among the features of the International News film being shown at leading theatres today. There are some exciting moments in the famous Kentucky Derby.

Among the many exceptional news pictures contained in this reel are some spectacular scenes of the million dollar fire that destroyed the train shed of the Broad street station at Philadelphia.

$5,000 SOUTH BOSTON JUNK SHOP BLAZE

Fire of unknown origin caused loss estimated at $5000 at the Joseph Levi junk shop, the first and second floors at A and West streets, South Boston, today. The blaze lasted for one hour and a half and was especially difficult to fight because of the heavy smoke cast by burning rags and papers.

ASSERT FRENCH ARMY WORLD'S SAFEGUARD

Washington, June 14.—The World's largest standing army—800,000 men, serving under the tricolor of France—is an international safeguard against a new world conflagration, Senator Selden P. Spencer, Republican, of Missouri declared today in reviewing his recent European tour.

Spencer said he did not believe France had gone "militaristic." The great French army, he predicted, would be disbanded thirty days after the reparations agreement was signed. Settlement of the one outstanding problem, reparations, will bring lasting peace to Europe, he declared.

"France must maintain a tremendous standing army for her national safety," declared Spencer. "Americans do not understand her situation. Her country has been ravaged and her industries are at low ebb. Just across the border Germany is booming industrially and economically. The contrast is startling.

"France maintains her great army, not from desire to adopt a militaristic policy, but because of the unsettled war conditions throughout Europe. To the people of France, the World War has not yet ended. Her army is her only safeguard against Germany. This is the French viewpoint and my observations abroad lead me to share it.

Spencer declared Germany and France presented startling contrasts.

"In Germany, people are well fed, every shop and factory is running, there is no unemployment, every field and plot of ground is under cultivation and the nation appears prosperous," he said.

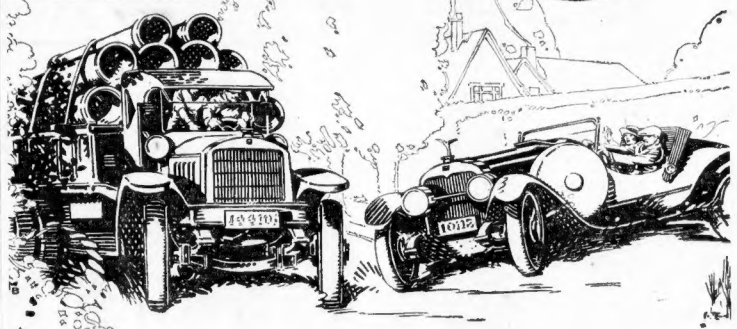
The VETERAN MOTORIST gives a few rules of the road

"On approaching an intersecting highway, corner or curve, where his view is obstructed, the driver of a motor-vehicle shall sound his horn and slow up enough to enable him to stop readily if necessary."
(The Veteran Motorist)



"ONE afternoon last summer, I was looking out of a store window on the Post Road. A heavily loaded truck happened to be coming along. Maybe a hundred and fifty yards or so up a side street, a low-hung touring car pulled out of a yard and the driver hit it up for the Post Road as though he had to make a train in thirty seconds. Matter of fact, he was just taking 'the sweetest, dearest, etc.' out for an afternoon spin.

"The truck and sport car got to the corner at the same time. No horns, no slowing up. Then a last minute struggle to avoid colliding. I think one of them must have had a horseshoe under his seat, for it was just about as close as I'd ever seen, or want to. As it was, one of the steering knuckles on the car was snapped in the shuffle

"Not a reason under the sun for it, just plain carelessness. And that's what causes three-fourths of all motoring accidents today. Take it from me, it pays to stick to the rules of the road nowadays—all of them—all the time."

BOSTON MOTHER FINDS LONG LOST SON ON TRIAL AS SLAYER

BOY RAN AWAY 16 YEARS AGO

New York, June 14—Sixteen years ago Raymond C. Clouthier ran away from home in Boston. His mother, now fifty-seven, has continually sought for him and awaited word from him.

She has found him—on trial for murder.

An anonymous letter reached Mrs. Clouthier saying that Raymond C. Collins, on trial for the third time in Supreme Court, at St. George, Staten Island, for the murder of Michael Connor, a bonded warehouse watchman, March 1, 1922, was her son.

The mother came to New York from Boston and got permission to see Collins.

Collins came through the corridor in which she stood, a white-haired woman in mourning. He stopped—tears welled in Mrs. Clouthier's eyes, and in a moment the two were locked in an embrace. He was indeed her son, now thirty-two years old, facing possible sentence to the electric chair.

IN DRAMATIC PLEA.

Collins claimed to be a graduate of Dartmouth College. Officials at Dartmouth College deny that Collins is a graduate of that institution. A search of the college records failed to show that he had ever been registered as a student there.

When Collins was asked if he had anything to say before sentence was passed, after he had been convicted of murder at his second trial, he turned dramatically, and addressing the 100 spectators in the courtroom as well as the court, declared:

"While in the eyes of the law I appear to be guilty, in the eyes of God, I am innocent!"

He then turned to Judge Tierney, presiding over the Richmond County Court, and pleaded that he show clemency for James Pymm, Frank Brown and Joseph Conigal, his confederates, who were indicted for the murder.

The son told his mother he had changed his name from Clouthier to Collins. His wife testified that she knew him only as Collins and that he had told her nothing of his past.

DENIES MURDER.

Collins testified in his own defence that he had engaged in the robbery of a bonded warehouse with two other men, but that they had killed Connor, and that he (Collins) was running away when the killing occurred.

Collins got a disagreement the first time and was convicted in the second trial, but the Appellate Division set the conviction aside and ordered a new trial. His case is again expected to go to the jury late today.

PATIENT RESCUED IN TRAIN PATH

Breaking loose from attendants, Arnold Cooley, a patient at West Roxbury Veterans' Hospital, raced up the escalator of Eggleston square Elevated station and hurled himself in the path of an inbound train.

Horrified spectators seized emergency red flags and began signaling frantically to the motorman, while hysterical women shrieked warning.

With brakes screeching, the train was halted a few feet from the man and with such suddenness that passengers were jolted from their seats.

Meanwhile men leaped to the track pit and held Cooley, who is a colored man, until the arrival of a police ambulance.

BANDITS' CAPTIVES DEMAND INDEMNITY

Shanghai, June 14 (AP)—Six of the eight foreign captives released Tuesday by the Shantung bandits, after being held prisoners since May 6, have arrived here. Although bearded, unkempt and fagged out generally, they apparently were little the worse for their arduous experience. All the former captives insist that the fullest reparations and indemnities be demanded of China and that the government take action to prevent outbreaks. The bandits' victims said that during the last ten days they were subjected to continuous insults.

BALTIMORE GAS RATE TO GO STILL LOWER

Baltimore, June 14.—This city will have one of the lowest gas rates of any city in the country after July 1, when the figures will drop from 92 to 85 cents on the primary rate, and 70 to 65 cents on the secondary rate.

The primary electric rate of 8 cents is not reduced, but the secondary is cut from 5 to 4 cents, and the consumer will get to the secondary rate after forty kilowatt hours instead of fifty kilowatt hours at present.

AMERICAN PLAY LURES LONDON NOTABLES

London, June 14 (U. P.)—The most distinguished audience of the Spring season will be present at the Duchess Theatre, West End, tonight, when "Business of Women," the sensational American playlet imported for the cosmopolitan corporation from Our contributor noted by Vicente Blasco Ibanez, has its London premiere. The picture will play a three weeks' engagement at the theatre and will be followed at that theatre by "Little Old New York," starring Marion Davies.

The London engagement of "Business of Women" has already attracted a great deal of interest here and indications are that the film will duplicate the success it has scored in New York and other leading cities of the United States. Great interest is being evinced in the rendition by Americans now in London and, according to Jack Porter, Hearst representative of the Cosmopolitan, members of the American colony have literally swamped him with requests for tickets.

Among noted Americans who will attend the London opening are Alan Dale, well known New York dramatic critic; Charles H. Dillingham, American theatrical producer, and F. J. Dalzell, president of Goldwyn Corporation. Mr. Goldwyn arrived in London from Paris by aeroplane this morning after previously having made an aerial trip from Berlin to the French capital.

New York—The Rev. Joseph John, negro, was ordained a priest of the Roman Catholic Church in the Church of St. Benedict the Moor by Bishop John J. Collins, S. J., formerly bishop of Jamaica, W. I.

Threaten to Refuse Diplomas if Meiklejohn Is Ousted at Amherst

A. Meiklejohn

Dr. Alexander Meiklejohn, for ten years president of the college, is carried out.

This information is contained in a petition being circulated in Amherst circles by the students on the eve of the annual commencement.

Members of the board of trustees of the college openly admit they are anxious to oust Dr. Meiklejohn, even before the commencement program begins, but refuse to make any statement.

Dr. Meiklejohn is silent on the subject. Fred Ells, secretary of the Amherst Alumni Association, said the continued result not represent the full board of trustees.

Dr. Meiklejohn, whose position is financially one of the most profitable in any American college, is opposed to paid athletic coaches.

Said a member of the board of trustees, "in spite of the fact that the president's fame as an educator is country-wide, his views of modernizing education are entirely too radical."

Dr. Meiklejohn is known to favor the inauguration of a two-year college course to be completed by students before entering the definite study of a chosen life's work, whether the student elects to enter a professional or other curse.

This plan of Dr. Meiklejohn does not met the approval of the board of trustees. The trustees also object to Dr. Meiklejohn's insistence that Amherst remain a "small college." Their remarks were bitter and caustic when sixty men were refused admittance last fall because there was no room for them.

Bon Voyage Gifts Are Wines Now, Not Fruit

Paris, June 14.—The "drying up" of the trans-Atlantic hotel has revolutionized the selection of bon voyage gifts to departing friends. Baskets of fruit formerly went to departing steamship passengers.

Today the baskets are filled with an assortment of wines, champagnes and brandies, with occasionally a cocktail shaker tucked in one corner.

A number of the Parisian wineshops have caught the idea of making a specialty of assembling the proper outfit of a week's drinkables.

HUGHES 12 MILE DRY LIMIT IS FROSTED

Washington, June 14 (I.N.S.)—Secretary of State Hughes' proposal to solve the dry ship dilemma by extending the three-mile limit to twelve miles has been accorded a distinctly cold reception by the foreign powers concerned.

While officially speaking, the proposition is now being "carefully considered" by the foreign offices in London, Paris, Tokio and other world capitals, usually there is very little doubt that the treaties proposed by Secretary Hughes will be undertaken, according to high diplomatic opinion in Washington.

The attitude of the world powers, as gleaned from diplomatic sources, apparently may be summed up as follows:

"Why should we wrap an important part of international law that has existed for ages dating back to help the United States enforce a domestic law which we do not approve and never have had any sympathy for?"

It was pointed out that French resentment against the American prohibition law has always been keen.

DE STEUGUER IN COMMAND AT NAVY YARD

Rear Admiral Louis de Steuguer today assumed over the command of the Charlestown Navy Yard from Rear Admiral H. A. Wiley. The usual formalities were observed. All the officers of the yard were lined up before the administration building and a company of marines were at attention when the new commander arrived.

After meetings of courtesies Admiral Wiley and Admiral De Steuguer retired to the administration building where the command was formally turned over. A salute of thirteen guns was fired for the outgoing admiral and another of fifteen guns for the incoming admiral.

Admiral Wiley leaves today for Norfolk where he will board the battleship Maryland. He will then proceed to the Pacific where he will become vice-admiral of the battlefleet in those waters.

The new commander was born in Athens, O., in 1865. He graduated from the Naval Academy in 1889. He has held many important posts, including the command of the Portsmouth Navy Yard.

Colonel A. T. Marix, commander of the Marines at the yard, will leave tomorrow. He was presented with an ivory-handled sword and a leather brief case today by the men of his command.

SENIORS STRIKE, HISS GRADAUTION EVENT

Cincinnati, June 14 (I.N.S.)—All but three of the 40 members of the senior class of the high school at Newport, Ky., went on strike, refusing to attend their own graduation exercises. They and a multitude of friends "gummed" the ceremony by hisses and hoots.

The strike arose over a difference with the faculty as to a class "yearbook" last Monday. Wesley Bowen, deputized by the class to draft a humorous roast on the school and teachers, saved it on too thick by a couple of inches, according to Principal C. W. Craft, who demanded an apology from the stage which was refused.

BRITAIN PLANS NO 'DRY SHIP' PROTEST

London, June 14 (I.N.S.)—Despite newspaper demands, the Foreign Office stated today that the British Cabinet is not planning any formal protest to Washington against the American "dry ship" edict. Officials said Great Britain is willing to enter an international conference to extend the 3-mile limit off the American coast if other nations consent, but England "cannot abrogate the 3-mile limit recognized by international law in favor of a single nation."

GETS $450 FOR AID TO MRS. BATEMAN

Lowell, June 14.—Charles H. Brown, who alternated in the roles of employe and spiritual adviser to the late Carrie E. Bateman, today received a jury verdict of $450 for services rendered to her state. He sued for $2000. Brown, who is 66, had charge of all work around the estate, and often times, according to letters introduced in the trial, gave freely of his advice and worldly wisdom to Mrs. Bateman, who was eighty.

2 MEN DISCHARGED; SYDNEY MINERS QUIT

North Sydney, N. S., June 14—All the United Mine Workers employed in all the collieries in the Sydney mines district struck today to enforce demands upon the British Empire Steel Corporation for reinstatement of two men discharged at the Florence colliery. Safety men at the major collieries of the Scotia group joined the strikers.

BAY STATE MEN IN M'MILLAN'S CREW

Wiscasset, Me., June 14.—Capt. Donald B. MacMillan announced today the personnel of his expedition to Greenland sailing from this port on June 25 on the schooner Bowdoin.

Three of the six members of the crew accompanied him on the Baffin land expedition from which he returned last september. They are Ralph Robinson of Haverhill, Mass., and Woodland; Thomas McCue of Bristol, N. S., mate, and Richard Goddard of Winthrop, Mass., sent by Carnegie Institute to continue his observations on terrestrial magnetism and atmospheric electricity.

The new members of the crew are Harold Sisk of Bristol, Conn., radio operator, sent by the American Radio Relay League; W. P. Lewis of Lowell, Ma., cook, and John Jaynes of Somerville, Mass., engineer.

Captain MacMillan will pick up at Lanes bay near Davis Inlet on the Labrador coast, Abram Broomfield, an expert dog driver, who accompanied him on the last trip North.

IT'S LONG, LONG TRAIL FOR DRYS IN BRITAIN

London, June 14 (I.N.S.)—Sudden reformation of the drinking habits of the British nation is not attainable, says the report of the special committee appointed by the British Labor party to inquire into the question of prohibition, made public today.

The committee says it perceives no sign that the British people are at all likely to vote a national prohibition law. It points out that the example of the United States cannot be pleaded, because "prohibition in America came only as the culminating stage of three-quarters of a century of reform."

PEP MARKS REUNION OF BURDETT COLLEGE

Sparkling Riverside was the gay scene of the third annual reunion of Burdett College.

Fair co-eds disporting and vying with one another for aquatic honors, youthful business builders battling in strenuous athletic events, and a proud faculty bestowing college letters, made the event a gala day in the long annals of the reunions of that college.

Miss Madeline Holmes, '24, was adjudged the cream of high diver, while Miss Lillian Segal, '23, displayed her versatility by winning the award in the carpenter contest. Among the men, George Carr, '23, captured most of the athletic honors, winning the broad jump, half-mile run and twenty-five yard swim. The college baseball team defeated Franklin High School team, 13 to 9.

SNOW MAY BLOCK NORTH POLE FLIGHT

Christiania, June 14.—Bad weather, with high winds and snow, may delay the flight of Captain Roald Amundsen across the North Pole, according to a wireless dispatch from Amundsen's exploration ship, the Maud.

The dispatch from the Maud, which is in the ice at Dove's Island, said Amundsen had started from Dove's Island for Point Barrow, where the hop-off will be made for either Spitsbergen, or Grant's Land, north of Greenland, about June 20.

MAY COAL SHIPMENTS HEAVIEST ON RECORD

Philadelphia, June 14.—Shipments of anthracite for the month of May amounted to 8,584,285 gross tons, an increase of 299,311 tons over April, and an increase of 779,-200 tons compared with May, 1921. The hard coal mines were not in operation in May, 1922, due to the strike.

The shipment of prepared sizes last month established a record for May and was only approached during the month of May in the war years of 1917 and 1918, when the maximum production was reached. The demand for anthracite is exceedingly heavy due to householders desiring to stock up for the Winter.

PAYS $50 FINE FOR MIXING GAS AND RUM

Joseph Bolonbaum, thirty-six years old, of No. 108 Summer street, Lynn, appeared before Judge Bossom in Chelsea Court today on three charges. A charge of drunkenness was placed on file, as was a charge of operating an automobile so as to endanger lives of the public. For driving while under the influence of liquor, Bolonbaum paid $50. On the night of June 9, Bolonbaum's car collided with a car owned by Morton Flint, of No. 161 Water street, Dorchester, injuring six occupants.

AUTOIST DRUNK, ARM BROKEN, COP ASSERTS

Ralph S. Dolhan of Waltham was in the Newton District Court today on the charge of operating a motor vehicle while under the influence of liquor. Patrolman Fitzgerald told the court that he saw Dolhan's machine zigzagging up Pelton street and stopped it. He said he found Dolhan not only drunk, but with his right arm broken and bound to his side. The case was continued for investigation.

Father's Day—June 17th
Necktie to take place of Carnation

FATHER'S DAY, set for June 17th, has a long way to go to catch up to Mother's Day. Mother's Day has imbedded itself in the subconscious mind, but the conscious mind is as yet only vaguely aware there is such a thing as "Father's Day." We who have remembered Mother from year to year, are well aware that the white carnation (that pure and innocent flower) has been chosen the emblem of recognition.
But let us not stop here, for we should also remember our dear old Dad. It is a noble work to put Mother on a pedestal for at least one day a year, as it causes those who sometimes forget Mother, to refresh their memories and review the many sacrifices that mother made in their behalf. The work is only half done, however, when we stop here, because "Dad" is responsible for guiding us in the proper direction.
Now, come on Boys and Girls, let us all get together for "Father's Day," June 17th.
It has been suggested that a new necktie be the emblem of recognition for "Father's Day."
A mighty clever suggestion, and it should be carried out to every letter of the slogan—
"BUY DAD A TIE"

FOOD QUERY DEPARTMENT

YOUR FOOD PURCHASING DIFFICULTIES SOLVED

A THURSDAY FEATURE

Are you at a loss as to where you can secure some particular brand or kind of foodstuffs? If so, write the Boston American Food Query Editor. We will answer your inquiry in these columns as quickly as possible.

Food Query Editor:

I have been told there is a new blend of pickles out that are very delicious. It is a combination of sweet pickled fruit and spices. I understand it is an imported brand of goods. If there is a commodity such as above I would appreciate knowing who puts it up and where I can purchase same.

MRS. A. B. S

Cambridge

Crosse & Blackwell put up a Branston pickle that is new on the market and, judging from your description, would say that this brand of pickles would be what you are looking for, as it is a blended sweet pickle containing chopped fruits, vegetables, spices and aromatic vinegar. These goods are put up in England. You can purchase this commodity at Sharpe's Market, No. 177 Federal street, Boston.

Food Query Editor:

Is there such a thing as raisin bread flour? I have been told there is a new flour on the market that was called by the above name and, as I am a great believer in the use of raisins, would like to know if there is a flour such as the above and, if so, where same could be found.

MRS. J. J. F.

We have just been told of a new flour that is known as Blue Seal Raisin Bread Flour. I understand this flour blends perfectly with raisins and is very nutritious and toothsome. It is not white and makes up something like a gluten flour. S. S. Pierce expects a stock of this flour to arrive shortly.

Food Query Editor:

I am very fussy about the olive oil I use and particularly fond of a French oil. I am just running out of the stock I had on hand. A friend of mine secured it for me in New York city. It is known as "Lalance Brand," and it comes put up in gallon tins. I wonder if it is possible to buy same? Thanking you in advance.

Cambridge. MRS. M.

You can secure Lalance Brand of French Olive Oil, put in in gallon cans, at Strong, Moriton & Co., No. 30-A North street, or John Gilbert, Jr., Company.

Food Query Editor:

Where can I buy Mrs. Kidd's Pin Money pickles, put up in Richmond, Va.?

Newton. MRS. W. F. F.

John Gilbert Company, No. 428 Boylston street, and the Houghton & Dutton Grocery Department carry a full line of Pin Money gherkins, pickles and chow.

Food Query Editor:

Have you ever heard of a Hudson Brand of Hams and bacon? If so, where can I purchase them in or around Boston? I have been buying them in Albany, N. Y. Thanking you, I am MRS. R. P.

North Cambridge.

You can secure the Hudson hams and bacon, put up by C. A. Van Dusen in Hudson, N. Y., from William A. Doe or Childs, Pynn & Co., both of New Faneuil Hall Market.

Food Query Editor:

Have you ever heard of the Niagara brand of hams? If so, could you tell me where I could purchase one? I have been in Europe for the past two years and since my return have been unable to find any place that handles this particular brand. I think this ham is put up in New York State, to the best of my recollection. Thanking you,

Wollaston, Mass. MRS. C. P.

You can secure Niagara brand of ham at the following places: W. A. Doe & Co., H. A. Lowell & Co., S. H. Wilkins and the original Squire Company, all of Faneuil Hall Market. This ham is put up by the Jacobs-Dold Packing Company, Buffalo, N. Y.

Food Query Editor:

I have heard of a butter which I am told is excellent. It is, to the best of my recollection, called Seal of Vermont Creamery Butter. Also a bacon called Easter Brand. I do not know who it is put up by. Will you be good enough to tell me where I can purchase these two articles? Thanking you in advance, A. K.

Jamaica Plain, Mass.

You can secure Seal of Vermont Creamery Butter, put up in Vershire, Vt., at Hicks & Smith, Inc., No. 8 Faneuil Hall Market; also at J. W. Mills, Hyde Park. Easter Brand bacon, put up by the Danahy Packing Company, Buffalo, N. Y., you can buy at L. M. Dyer Company and J. P. Squire, Faneuil Hall Market. Alfred Sears, Childs, Pynn & Co., William A. Doe and Weston Thurston in the New Faneuil Hall Market.

PICTURES U. S. AS ISLAND IN CRIME OCEAN

Washington, June 14—The United States is surrounded by a "no man's land," ruled by rum-fleets, murderers, bootleggers, and pirates, according to John W. Crim, assistant attorney-general of the United States, in a speech delivered here.

In outlining the "crime wave" and the inability of the Federal Government to enforce its laws, he said:

"On the Canadian border, on the Mexican border, on the Atlantic ocean, on the Gulf of Mexico, on the Pacific ocean, a belt around the entire United States, we have a veritable 'No Man's Land.'

"Bootlegging, graft, piracy, smuggling, murder are committed in a degree of deliberately and skilfully organized infamy which is without parallel in American history.

"The clamor for Congress to invade State sovereignty is impairing the fundamentals on which American civilization rests. It permits the citizens to avoid community responsibility and it places a burden on the Federal government which it cannot carry. In a quiet, creeping and persistent way, it is creating a bureaucracy at Washington which in time will know no master.

"To try all of the suits now pending in our Federal courts under the mail fraud statute alone will require approximately all of the time of all of the trial judges of the United States courts for one year.

"It is doubtful if any one knows how many Federal detectives there are. It will suffice to say that there are thousands of them; that the task of managing them is one that would have made the founders of this republic shudder.

BOY, 3, SHOT DEAD IN HOME BY UNKNOWN

Newark, N. J., June 14.—Standing in the doorway of his home and reaching for five pennies in a nearby cupboard to buy an ice cream cone, three-year-old Frederick Spenelli was shot by an unknown person and died in a hospital.

The lad's mother, who had just given him permission to have the money, heard no shot but saw her son fall, she told the police. She declared he had been standing in direct line with the open door.

Nashville, Tenn., June 14.—The almost perfectly formed skeleton of an Indian seven feet tall was unearthed here by workmen engaged in construction of a home on the property of Mrs. M. E. Kuhn, seven miles from this city.

BOOTLEG BRIDE AT 3-MILE LIMIT

New York, June 13.—News of the New Jersey rum fleet has penetrated into Syria, whence comes a novel suggestion of "Bootleg Brides."

The Near East Relief announced today that a delegation of leading residents of Edon recently called on Mrs. Florence Stanton Kalk of Omaha, director of a girls' orphanage in the Persian city and proposed that the Near East Relief charter a ship to transport the girls to the three-mile limit.

The delegation suggested that new Yorkers could come out to the ship, select a true Syrian, be married there and take their wives back with them as citizens of the United States, to whom immigration quotas did not apply.

The delegates said they had heard of rum row and that they believed if Americans took each fiancee to get their money, they would take equal pains to get handsome girls capable wives.

The suggestion was not accepted.

INSULIN MARVELS ARE OUTLINED

Montreal, June 14.—The Canadian Medical Association, in convention in Montreal, passed a resolution of thanks to Dr. T. C. Banting of Toronto, for the discovery of insulin, the diabetes cure. It was announced also that the Canadian government would be asked to recognize Dr. Banting's services. The Toronto government has already done so.

The injection of insulin speedily enables not only the moderately afflicted, but the severe diabetic to store glucose in the muscles and tissue cells, the patient becoming what is known as "sugar free," Dr. Banting explained. It had been found that even the person suffering from diabetes of the most severe and long standing type could be maintained "sugar free" and some of these had more than doubled their weight in six months while taking the insulin treatment.

The improvement of the physical condition is followed by an improvement in the general disposition of the patient. The patient is no longer faced with severe restriction of diet, which, before the advent of insulin, meant a long course of starvation, leading to incapacity and finally to death.

BULGARS TRAP STAMBOULISKY; BATTLE ON

Sofia, June 14 (AP)—Ex-Premier Stamboulisky is reported to have been halted near Tatar, Dardilip and is said to be making a stand against the government troops with several hundred peasant guards. Several casualties have already occurred.

Belgrade, June 14 (AP)—M. Daskaloff, the Bulgarian Minister at Prague, is reported to have received word from Stamboulisky that a determined struggle must begin for the overthrow of the "usurping government."

Acting upon instructions from Daskaloff, who has taken up Stamboulisky's mantle as leader of the Bulgarian Agrarians, M. Liouskanoff, the Bulgarian Charge D'Affaires here, called on Foreign Minister Kinchitch, and notified him that the charge does not recognize the government formed by Premier Zankoff at Sofia.

Constantinople, June 14 (I.N.S.)—Communication between Turkey and Bulgaria was cut off today, Turkey is sending troops to the Bulgarian frontier as a precautionary measure.

BEAUTY SOUGHT IN TAXICAB KIDNAPING

New York, June 14—Police today searched the lower East Side and known haunts of criminals throughout the city for an unidentified, pretty young woman kidnaped by three men from the doorway of a Bronx apartment house.

A theory that the girl, who had been heard to scream, in a taxicab, might have been Miss Ruth Gottlieb was exploded today when she was found.

Officials described the act as one of the most daring in the city's history. Scores saw the men dash up to the young woman, who was about nineteen years old, and shove her into the taxi.

Several men rushed for the three and were within arms length of the machine when it lurched away. A spectator obtained the number of the cab.

Washington—President Harding is busy on the addresses he will make on his Western trip, starting next Wednesday. The President hopes to have all of the principal addresses written before he leaves.

There was something special scheduled for the night of the raid, so, according to Smith:

"Bob Hartung got two quarts of Virginia Dare and one quart of benedictine (dealcoholized brand)," which was brought to the club, and there, to "make it a little more exhilerating" some alcohol was added.

The question about the mixing of spirits, the witness replied that "having imbibed he was under the impression alcohol had been mixed." Some of those present, it appears from the testimony, became exhilerated, which caused Attorney Borre to ask:

"Were you sober or drunk?"

"I would say I was sober, but not with any great degree of authenticity."

Cheaper than riding in a Taxi and with the WORLD'S GRANDEST SCENERY thrown in

Chicago North Western Railway

Out in Wyoming a new scenic route to the Yellowstone has been opened up and the cost for the automobile transportation in luxurious motor cars, with the world's grandest scenery thrown in, is less than you have to pay for riding over boulevards in a taxi.

World travelers who have made the trip are unanimous in their enthusiasm for the new route and proclaim the scenery the most magnificent they have ever seen.

Seventy miles through the Shoshone Indian Reservation, winding along the beautiful Wind River which is crossed and recrossed many times; wonderful Brooks Lake, with the world's greatest trout fishing; the Teton mountains, considered the most majestic of all the ranges in the Rockies; and the Jackson Hole and Lake region, greatest game country in the world, in which there are over 25,000 elk, not to mention the large number of other big and small game which make it their retreat. And then the regular four and one-half days tour through Yellowstone, the most popular of all our National Parks.

DREAM TALKS AT 7-ARTS

Captain James H. McDeavitt, to smile broadly.

REJECT LONG-HAIRED YOUTHS

About this time a half dozen pale faced youths with hair reaching down over their collars and wearing flowing neckties were bowed from the court room by officers when their whispering annoyed and they could give no valid reason for being present.

It appears from Smith's testimony, that the Seven Arts Club was conceived on the night of May 6 at a meeting of eighteen young people of both sexes in the Little Brown Jug tea room, which later became the club quarters.

Smith was elected president and Miss Mahoney treasurer. James Moran of Cambridge was chosen vice president and Robert Hartung, son of Dr. Robert Hartung of Huntington avenue, sergeant-at-arms.

Smith did not describe the duties of the latter, but it was thought by police that he must have been custodian of the Seven Arts as typified by the seven candles that furnished the only light at the club seances.

The police admitted they were frankly puzzled by the Seven Arts and they begged information as to the aims and purposes of the club.

This caused the witness to explain, punctuating his remarks by repeated running of his hands through his hair, worn rather long.

"Our aims were the discussion of the seven arts in their various branches as might be applied to the hobbies of the club rendezvous. Each week a subject was discussed in an open forum.

"For instance, we took up the interpretation of dreams, psycho analysis, philosophical subjects and the Freudian theories.

"We had persons of prominence and authority to discuss subjects. We had Jewett, an authority on adolescence, and Lawrence, who is an authority on repressed emotions.

"There were musicians, sculptors, painters, writers. There was Erle Von Townsend, a European connoisseur and critic of psycho-analysis and a man very well versed in his subject."

Sergeant Will Livingstone admitted to reporters he didn't "understand much about Freud or repressed emotions."

There was "less to object about" at the Seven Arts Club, the witness insisted, than at any "tea dance at the Copley Plaza," although now and then "students did get together there and tell mild little stories."

This statement caused his counsel, Peter Borre, to ask: "Did you ever tell any?"

The witness grew angry. He shouted "Your honor, those things doesn't interest me."

Patrolman John J. Clifford, testifying previously, had told of hearing risque stories and, by order of the

THE WAYS OF A HUSBAND—By ANN LISLE

A Splendid Sequel to the Famous Story of Wedded Life, "When a Girl Marries"

HOW THE STORY STARTS

Jim and Anne find happiness again on a honeymoon spent in the apartment of Betty Winston, loaned for the occasion. They go to Dreamwold for a Sunday dinner with Jeanie and are met in the grounds by Rosa, who ignores Anne. Rosa advises the discharge of Mabel Storrs to save the big salary. This Anne resents. Evvy helps Anne arrange her apartments and a dinner is given as a housewarming. Phoebe grows hysterical on receipt of Carlotta's wedding invitation. Carlotta asks for a tete-a-tete with Anne, and Jim stays in the room.

Medbury Says—

By John P. Medbury

THE reason a lot of people can't get by in society is that they're amateurs. They don't know how to tell another person some things without insulting him.

WHENEVER you make a startling remark you have to say it 'cause you meant it and look like you didn't.

IN the best of society, no woman ever gets her husband without making him do a lot of it.

IN order to be an expert "catty" you have to know how to pare a friend's character.

EVERY well bred society woman can tell the truth at least once in her life without anyone in a position to know it.

IF she doesn't do this, the other women will know that she's not well bred enough to tell about it.

YOU can be a million dollars' worth of that quite let them don't know it. A lot of people envy you for it.

YOU'VE got to do this because you're afraid you're losing your job.

THEY say it's the thought that counts, but they want to see a lot of it before they'll buy you anything.

WHENEVER you go to a social function you always meet someone you'd like to see.

SOCIETY women are divided into two classes, and the most popular of these are those who can't sing and won't tell you so.

GIVE POOR OLD DAD SOME ATTENTION, TOO

A father and his son were passing a golf course, and the son said: "Dad, how would you like to learn golf?"

"I'd like it fine," replied the father, "but I'm afraid I haven't the time."

"Why, Dad," said the son, "you have time for everything else. You have time for golf, you have time for your business, you have time for your friends, you have time for your family, but you never have time for me."

The father was startled by the boy's words. He realized that he was very busy. He often spent evenings in his office when he was tired and should have been resting. He had been so busy making money for his family that he had neglected them.

Right then and there he resolved that he would spend more time with his son. He would not let business interfere with his pleasure. He would not let the cares of his office follow him home. He would not let the worries of his business keep him from his family.

He kept his resolve. He began to play golf with his son. He began to take his son with him on his business trips. He began to take his son with him on his pleasure trips. He began to take his son with him on his vacation trips.

The father and son became inseparable companions. They had a wonderful time together. They learned to know each other as they had never known each other before.

The father was a wise man. He realized that he had been neglecting his son. He realized that he had been neglecting his family. He realized that he had been neglecting his pleasure. He realized that he had been neglecting his health.

He made up his mind that he would not neglect his son any more. He would not neglect his family any more. He would not neglect his pleasure any more. He would not neglect his health any more

FORBES' VIEWS ON FINANCE

By B. C. Forbes

It has often been said that the country cannot prosper if the railroads are sick.

Well, the railroads are now doing quite well, thank you.

Announcement of an increase in the New York Central dividend from 6 per cent. to 7 per cent. a year draws attention to this fact.

* * *

What are the railroads going to do with their new prosperity? Will they take advantage of their increased profits merely to declare more generous dividends, or will they keep the shipper quite as prominently in mind as the stockholder? If our railroad managers are wise, they will do everything within their power to lower rates, particularly rates on agricultural products.

* * *

One danger disturbing the minds of responsible financial leaders is that of anti-railroad agitation as soon as Congress meets next December. This danger certainly will be intensified if between now and then many railroads swell their dividend disbursements. It is true that railroad stockholders have not been able to indulge in riotous living off their dividends for quite a few years. Dividend payments have not increased half as fast or far as the cost of living. It is natural, therefore, that every effort should be made to do better by stockholders of transportation stocks.

Nevertheless, is it far-sighted to launch an era of dividend increases at this time?

Would it not be more prudent to devote chief attention to bringing down such rates as have aroused the bitterest objection, particularly among our agricultural people, who have had to bear more than an average share of adversity for quite some time?

Only yesterday morning, before the New York Central dividend news was issued, I was talking with a hotel manager, and one of his complaints was that railroad travel had been marked up so much that the hotel business has been seriously affected. For example, he said, that when railroad fares were for a large number of Philadelphians used to run over to New York to spend the week-end, but that habit has all had been put to next to nothing. He also declared that many business firms and companies had been considered the number of men sent on the road to seek goods, the differ railroad fares existing prompted such a course.

* * *

Every thoughtful citizen recognizes that our railroads are now on trial, so to speak, and that if they don't so conduct themselves as to earn a reasonable measure of public support, Government ownership will be brought to the front more vigorously than ever before, and perhaps adopted. Since the great majority of railroad managers are opposed to having government officials as their bosses, these railroad managers ought to shape their course with a view of reducing to a minimum cause for driving government ownership agitation. This object certainly will not be attained if more attention is given to raising fat dividends than to lowering rates.

* * *

The latest earnings statements show that the railroads, as a whole, are now earning at least the "fair return" specified in the transportation act. The new handling of those larger earnings should materially help to insure the continuance of active general business in this country. Lower railroad rates would prove most welcome and helpful. So would the continuance of extensive purchases of equipment, etc., by railroads. Higher dividend would help financial sentiment, but that would be about all.

* * *

Those who are disposed to take a bearish view of the future outlook should make note of yesterday's action by the New York Central directors and should also take into consideration the likelihood of a great many more dividend increases by various classes of corporations. Profits during the first half of this year have been much more satisfactory than for quite some time previously, so that more generous dividend disbursements can be expected. This will tend to cheer the stock market. And the sentiment displayed by the stock market has not a little influence upon sentiment throughout the length and breadth of the land.

* * *

This would seem to be a poor time to embark upon a bearish, pessimistic course of action.

Oils and Tires Weak as Dozen New Lows Are Set in New York Stock Market

CARRIERS ARE KEPT FAIRLY STEADY

Oils and tires were weak and about a dozen new lows for the year set in today's New York Stock Market. Money reheved at 4% per cent.

All of fresh buoyancy so certainly will be intensified if between now and then many railroads swell their dividend disbursements. It is true that railroad stockholders have not been able to indulge in riotous living off their dividends for quite a few years. Dividend payments have not increased half as fast or far as the cost of living. It is natural, therefore, that every effort should be made to do better by stockholders of transportation stocks.

HEARST SURE OF MEXICAN RECOGNITION

Universal Service.

El Paso, Tex., June 14 (U.N.S.)—In response to a request from the El Paso Times for an interview on present conditions in Mexico, William Randolph Hearst sent the following from Deming, New Mexico:

"I think that Mexico is on the threshold of a very great development—the greatest in her history.

"Peace has been so completely restored that a man can't even get into a fight if he wants to. Conditions are as stable in Mexico as in the United States. There is absolutely safety for life and property in every part of Mexico.

"The government is in the hands of conservative and capable men, President Obregon, Minister De La Huerta and Minister Calles are looked favorably with the leading statesmen of any nation in the world. I have talked with many of the world's biggest men and I say this without reservation.

NEEDS CAPITAL.

"Mexico is one of the richest countries on the face of the earth. There is every variety of climate and every variety of product and consequently every variety of opportunity for money making in legitimate business.

"Mexico needs capital. Of course so much undeveloped wealth requires enormous capital for development and capital has hesitated to go into Mexico, partly because of the disturbed conditions which followed imediately after the revolution, and partly because of certain laws not sufficiently carefully considered which were the immediate result of the revolution.

"But the revolution is now but a memory. Its disturbances have utterly departed and the laws which alarmed capital are being revised and reconstructed on better and sounder business lines.

ECONOMIC PLAN SOUND.

"One of the great advantages of the present recognition conference in Mexico is that a careful discussion of all these economic questions will result in the soundest possible economic system being adopted as a basis for international relation between the two countries and this system will be of even greater advantage to Mexico than to the United States.

"I had a most interesting talk with one American commissioner, and I do not believe that there is one single thing recommended by them which does not look towards closer business relations, sounder economic conditions and the complete restoration of confidence to capital. All of these things are of vast and vital importance to Mexico, hence the advantage of the conference and the wisdom of Mexico's course in giving thoughtful consideration to these questions.

MUCH INTEREST.

"Capital will invest somewhere. If it doesn't invest in one place, it will in another, consequently the individual or the nation that required capital would succeed in creating within reason the conditions which will satisfy it. For example, if I went into a bank to borrow money for the development of a newspaper enterprise, I would not say, 'I will pay what interest I please, and give such security as I think best and I will repay when I feel like it.' If I did I wouldn't get the money.

"Therefore, I would agree to legitimate rates of interest. I would offer recognized securities and I would comply with established and accepted conditions for transactions of that kind.

"Thus would I get my money, establish my property, make a fair profit, repay the bank and everybody would be happy.

SEES RECOGNITION.

"What I mean by this example is that there are established conditions which prevail throughout the world under which capital can be secured. If you don't want the capital you can neglect those conditions. If you do want the capital you should proceed to comply with them.

"Mexico has everything in the world except capital. She requires that, and she would be very unwise to allow any trifling technicalities to stand in the way of her getting it.

"I know the statesman in charge of Mexico's affairs. I know that they are exceptionally wise and far seeing and moreover that they are intensely patriotic and anxious to see that Mexico possess her full measure of prosperity.

"Therefore I feel sure that this conference will result not only in recognition, but what is much more important, in creating those business relations and economic conditions which will restore confidence to capital throughout the world and give Mexico the splendid development her wonderful country and limitless opportunities deserve."

CHICAGO PETITIONS FOR BEER AND WINE

Chicago, June 14—The Chicago city council still is overwhelmingly wet. It has petitioned Congress to permit the manufacture and sale of Beer and light wines. The vote was 37 to 8. The resolution declares that prohibition threatens to involve the country in international complications; that the Volstead act is unpopular and too drastic and that the people want it modified.

REAL ESTATE HAPPENINGS

Title to a three and one half story brick building at No. 229 Northampton street, taxed to Arthur W. Cole, has been transferred to John E. Sexton. The property is assessed for a total of $8,500, of which $2,500 is on the 2,504 square feet of land. Papers have passed.

IN MARLBORO STREET.

Frederick P. Cabot and Arthur Lyman, trustees, have conveyed to Charles H. Fiske title to a four-story brick dwelling and 2,128 feet of land. The total assessed value is $20,500, of which $16,000 is on the land.

ROXBURY AND JAMAICA PLAIN.

A three-family frame dwelling at No. 8 Harlow street, Roxbury, with about 4,000 square feet of land, has been sold by T. P. Curley to Charles M. Colalillo, who has bought for investment. The property has an assessed value of $9,200.

William McPhearson has conveyed to Matilda Burgess title to a new three-family frame dwelling, with about 10,000 square feet of land at No. 26 Robeson street, Jamaica Plain. The property being new is not yet assessed.

John Hurley has sold to Mary Maglyn a two-family frame house at No. 26 St. Rose street, Jamaica Plain. There is a land area of 4,500 square feet. The total assessed valuation is $7,000.

All of the above sales are reported by the office of O'Neill & Allchin, No. 606 Centre street, Jamaica Plain.

BUSINESS LEASES.

The A. H. Chase Company, dealers in cotton, have become located in the Mason building, have leased from the State Street Exchange new quarters at No. 53 State street.

Hallinger & Jones have leased from R. Marston the fourth floor at No. 165 High street.

The Laux Printing Company have leased for a long term of years from the trustees of the Thomas E. Proctor estate a portion of the sixth floor at No. 110 High street.

The above leases were negotiated through the office of W. H. Ballard & Co., Inc.

UNVEIL MONUMENT TO PIUS X. ON JUNE 28

Rome, June 14—Extensive preparations are being made for the unveiling of a monument to Pope Pius X in St. Peter's on June 28. Persons interested in the ceremony hope that it will contribute to a movement for his beatification.

Pius' successor is coming here from Riese, where the late Pontiff was born, from Salmpo, where he was a parish priest, from Mantua where he was archbishop, and from Venice, in which city he served as patriarch.

SEEKS HER MISSING HUSBAND IN HUB

Mrs. Matilda A. Butler of 20 Porter street, is seeking to locate her husband, George Butler, formerly a resident of the Orchards & Mineral Lire steamer Merrimac, who left their home in Philadelphia and has been missing since the ceremony to Boston and ascertained that he was paid off in this port on April 11. A fireman on the Merrimac has informed Mrs. Butler that her husband working in this city, but Mrs. Butler has been unable to find him.

SAYS U. S. HISTORIES LACK "PATRIOTISM"

Hammond, Ind., June 14—A plea to preserve the nation's history by less of "European whitewash" was made by Dr. B. J. Cigrand, president of the National Flag Day Association, in an address here today.

"Most of our present history text books devote too little matter to the deeds of our forefathers," Dr. Cigrand declared. He recommended the establishment of a Secretary of Education in the national cabinet.

Greatest of All Teachers —Misfortune

We Do Not Like That Teacher, but He Is Among Our Best Friends

Copyright, 1923, Star Company

Readers, here is a fact to bear in mind, one that should comfort you if misfortune comes to you:

To the right kind of man or woman MISFORTUNE IS AN EDUCATION AND A BLESSING.

When bad luck—as we call it—comes upon us, one or two things must happen. WE GIVE IN and MISFORTUNE CONQUERS, or we prove our strength by the way we deal with a calamity and the individual grows higher, grows in character, power, reputation by the very mental reaction that comes from misfortune's blow.

The history of the world's great men proves that adversity builds up character.

If Epictetus had not been a man of endurance, misfortune would have killed him and the world would never have known him or thanked him for his wonderful teachings of courage and philosophy. Born a slave, made lame by the brutality of his owner, sickly, weak and puny, there was no mean quality in the spring that moved his mind and his heart.

His theory was that nothing could hurt him so long as he did not ADMIT that he was controlled and beaten. Study his character, tell the man at your public library to give you a book about him, and you will know how the right kind of man can act when misfortune comes.

ALL OF US CAN STAND PROSPERITY BEAUTIFULLY. All of us can smile while the world wags the RIGHT way.

But what do you do when people turn against you? How much courage do you show in facing misfortune, deserved and undeserved? Upon the answer depends your probable future.

Important Victory in R. I.

Governor Flynn Forces Republicans to His Side in Constitutional Fight by Veto of Appropriation Bill

Governor Flynn of Rhode Island has just won an important constitutional victory in that State. It will be important for the Republicans as well as for the Democrats, because it will be important for all the people of the State.

While we speak of the American government as a government of written Constitutions in contrast with the Constitution of England, which is said to be unwritten, as a matter of fact the American people's State and national Constitutions are not entirely written, nor is the Constitution of England entirely unwritten.

The fundamentals of both governments are to be found in writing, in the provisions of constitutional conventions or amendments thereto by the consent given at an election of the people, and in England they are contained in statutes passed during critical constitutional periods; and, in every essential case, in the assent of the majority of the British electorate given at the time. While the first great constitutional provision of the English government, the Magna Charta, was a written compromise between the King and the barons of England made on what otherwise might have been the battlefield of Runnymede, yet that compromise was sanctioned and confirmed by an act of Parliament. Indeed all those who comprised Parliament at that time were parties to the Magna Charta, either as signatories or by virtue of their presence and assent in the army either of the barons or of the King.

Now our Constitutions are made up of the fundamentals set forth in our political conventions, plus their interpretations, sometimes proper and sometimes improper, by our Supreme Courts, but assented to by the government, and plus their modification by practices which have grown up in attempts to make the original convention conform with the spirit and changes of the times.

Our Constitution, therefore, is our written document interpreted by the executive and legislative branches of the government, by the courts and by the people themselves. A large, and sometimes the largest, portion of the working parts of the Constitution is unwritten, or at least unwritten in the fundamental Constitution itself.

Therefore, what Governor Flynn has accomplished in compelling the accounts of the various departments and commissions to be submitted to him in order to give him the necessary data on which to exercise his constitutional right of approving or disapproving appropriation bills, may be said to amount to a constitutional amendment, similar in effect to the amendment adopted in Massachusetts some years ago, which enables the Governor to veto specific items in appropriation bills.

The story of this important constitutional victory is interesting even to those who are not citizens of Rhode Island. The Governor had the usual veto power over legislation, but he had neither legal nor moral control over the executive departments, for he had neither the right to demand information nor the right to appoint or remove the executive officers. The Senate had this power, and, as we have frequently stated, the Senate is controlled by a rotten borough system in which about one-fifth of the voters are able to elect two-thirds of the Senate.

Such being the case, Governor Flynn refused to sign the appropriation bills unless and until he was given access to the information in the hands of the department heads, which alone would enable him to determine whether the appropriations heretofore made had been properly expended, and, therefore, to determine how large the appropriations of the coming year should be.

When Governor Flynn vetoed the appropriation bill because he was not allowed to know the facts vital to his assent to it, the Republican opposition mounted their high horse and threatened to do all kinds of things; but Governor Flynn and his Democratic cohorts remained firm, and the gentlemen on the State payroll who were receiving no stipends because the appropriation bill had not been approved gradually lost their ardor for their alleged precious constitutional cause, and in less than thirty days climbed down to the ground and yielded completely to the Governor's demand. By a special act the Legislature has agreed that hereafter the Governor shall have full power to share in the preparation of appropriation bills, and that all departments and commissions, including the State Auditor's department, shall prepare and send to the Governor a detailed report of administrative receipts and expenditures.

This is the way many great constitutional changes come about. Good for Governor Flynn, the Democrats who supported him and all the people, Democrats and Republicans alike, who created the public opinion that made his success possible.

IDEAL FOR PATIENTS WITH T. B.

HONOLULU, June 14.—The climate of Hawaii is ideal for the treatment of tuberculosis, according to Dr. R. Nelson Hatt, orthopedic surgeon, who is in charge of a special clinic for the treatment of children's diseases here, organized by local Shriners in co-operation with the national body.

THE VOICE OF NEW ENGLAND

No Attention Paid to Anonymous Communications

The 31 and The 7,000,000

Editor Boston American:

It seems that three years ago, thirty-one Americans, with thirty-one votes, signed a document in favor of the United States joining the League of Nations.

Now some of our newspapers are prating almost daily about the importances of those thirty-one individuals, as if it were a convincing reason why we should rush right into the league.

The editors who repeat this nonsense apparently do not attach any significance to the seven million majority recorded against the league in the 1920 Presidential election.

But- then, what do the views of the plain people amount to, especially after an election?

THE HELPING HAND

Do Not Inclose Stamps. Letters Will Not Be Answered Personally. No Attention Paid to Telephone Calls. No Names Are Published.

Invalid Husband

Editor Helping Hand:

Can some kind people help, with clothing or anything, a woman I know to be honest and worthy? She has an invalid husband, unable to work for six years, and also a boy twelve. I know they are having a hard time, their only income being the little she can earn, and she is not well. She wears about 38 or 40 bust, and he is of medium build. Her name is S. K.

MRS. L. K. M.

Coat and Blouse

Editor Helping Hand:

I have three dresses, one Winter coat and a jersey blouse to fit a girl of ten. Party can call for bundle any day before 1 o'clock.

MRS. C. J. C.

Your address has been sent to Mrs. M. C., who has a girl that age, and she has been asked to call as you suggest. Thank you.

Gifts for C. H.

Editor Helping Hand:

I would be pleased to give the following list of articles to any deserving case. It is a wonderful work your column is doing. All honor to it. I should like the little girl C. H. to have them if they would fit her. I wish I had much more to give, as it brings the greatest of happiness to help the destitute.

MRS. F. J. H.

Many thanks. C. H. has been so well supplied that I think the things you so generously offer will do more good elsewhere. You have been sent the address of Mrs. M. T., who wears size 38, and who has a girl ten and other children, all in need of clothes.

Wants Baseball Glove

Editor Helping Hand:

I have two small boys who have been begging me for a baseball glove ever since the season started. Could I get them the one offered by A. A. C.? I have four small children. My husband deserted me three years ago, and I find it hard to buy many things the children ask for. I live with my widowed mother and work every day, but can only buy necessities.

MRS. M. S.

A. A. C.'s address has been sent you, and I think she will be glad to send you the glove.

Artificial Leg

Editor Helping Hand:

We have an artificial leg for E. R.'s uncle, J. D. We are holding the coal stove which we offered some time ago. It is in fine condition.

W. P. R.

You have been sent E. R.'s address. Many thanks for this and for the stove, which we will hold for replies.

Five Dollars for C. H.

The editor wishes to express his very sincere thanks to Mrs. A. A. H., Rochester, for one dollar; to Mrs. A. S., Norwood, for two dollars, and to Mrs. L. A. S., Medford, for two dollars, all for C. H. The total of five dollars was sent C. H. Saturday, and will go a long way toward lightening the girl's burden. There have been many other generous responses to her appeal, which will be acknowledged in these columns as space allows.

Widow With Four

Editor Helping Hand:

I am a widow with four children. I have had a good education and could earn more money, but I have never seen a well day for years before my husband died. I have stomach trouble and a weak lung and cannot even do the housework without continually stopping to rest. My girl is only fourteen years old and is large for her age as a girl fifteen or sixteen. She needs clothes, as do the boys nine and twelve. She earns something by taking care of children, but I need every cent for food and rent. I receive a little help from the State, but not enough to make it possible to buy clothes for the children.

MRS. E. R. S.

Thanks Her Friends

Editor Helping Hand:

Will you kindly print a card of thanks to the many friends who have helped me in my hour of need: Mrs. F. F., of Winchester; Mrs. W. A. B., of Winthrop; Mrs. F. G. E., of Stoneham; Mrs. W. T., of Wakefield; Mrs. E. J. P., of Nashua, and Mrs. L. B., of Dorchester. I have had several beautiful letters from Mrs. L. B., who has been very good to me, and I know she has a big heart. She is going to send me a second box. May God bless you all.

MRS. G. E. C.

The friendly spirit of those who help is one of the nicest things about the Helping Hand.

Clothes for Girl

Editor Helping Hand:

Will you kindly send me the name and address of someone who would like clothes for a little girl five or six years old. I have quite a few dresses, coats, hats and shoes, practically in good condition, that I would like to give to some poor little girl in need. I also have a plush coat that would fit a lady wearing size 36, and some men's odd coats, size 38.

MRS. G. A. M.

Many thanks. You have been sent the address of Mrs. E. R., who wears size 36 and who has a little girl five in need of clothes. The men's coats will be held for replies.

$2 for M. R. G.

Editor Helping Hand:

Enclosed find $2 for M. R. G. Hoping this will help a little bit.

A. S.

It surely will. It has been forwarded to her. Many thanks.

Widow With 9 Children

Editor Helping Hand:

There is a widow with nine children, two working, but the very small pay they receive and the rent and groceries and everything, not counting clothes and shoes, keeps her in turmoil all the time. I give her a few things once in a while, but as I am poor myself, I can't do much. I know there is some sister from the Helping Hand that would be very glad to give anything that could be made over, as she is very handy with the needle. Her boys are nineteen, seventeen, ten, nine, eight and two, and her girls are sixteen, fourteen and six. Her husband died last February and she is trying to manage, but she is not strong and cannot work.

MRS. B. C.

Other Offers

The editor wishes to express his sincere thanks to the following people for their offers of assistance to those who have appealed for aid through the columns. They have been sent the address of those they wish to help.

THE SUPREME COURT UPSETS ANOTHER APPLE CART

By HERBERT KAUFMAN

EVER since the reign of King James all attempts to fix wages and prices through a central agency have proved futile gestures.

Nations stubbornly cling to the privilege of unrestricted barter for services and commodities. Man's goods and his skill are universally held to be worth all that he can get for them.

Legislation has partially succeeded in eliminating unfair and oppressive practices, but neither commerce nor labor has ever lost its fundamental right to competitive markets.

The government reaffirms that principle when it overrules the power of the Kansas Industrial Court to run the payroll of the Wolf Packing Company.

Chief Justice Taft delivers the majority opinion that such action directly conflicts with Article Fourteen of the Federal Constitution.

A statute is easier passed than sustained. Jefferson's fences are hard to jump.

Fences of dogma don't hold so well. The Fosdick revolt begins to spread. Schism is in the air, when two Union Theological students secure licenses from the New York Presbytery despite their refusal to accept the doctrine of immaculate conception. Many pulpits of many minds these days.

One Man's Loss Another's Gain

Stockyards are buying hogs cheaper than at any time since 1912, which means that pork products should be corresponding bargains at the retailer's counter.

Farmers find it more profitable to stick four legs on an ear of corn than send it to the mill.

"Meal and squeal" are infallible indicators of prosperity. Meat and bread rise and fall together. Flour also should soon be cheaper. It's an ill wind that doesn't blow some consumer good.

Rural Europe takes another squint at inflation and beholds an angel in disguise. The gentlemen who loaned money on Austrian and German mortgages unhappily failed to specify repayment in gold.

Any peasant can afford to clear the title to his property at existing rates of exchange.

Bankers have their nodding moments, too. They gave paper kronen and marks, and they're getting them back—but not the same sort.

How would you like to invest a thousand dollars and then be compelled by law to take one in settlement?

Thespis Takes to the Road

Drama returns to its cradle. The theatre was born on the road. Actors roamed the countryside, performed from carts and caravans, and gathered yokel groats and pence when Hector was a stripling.

Ancient strollers find their counterparts in the "Jitney Players," a stock company just setting forth to tour America in an automobile truck, which an ingenious arrangement of gears and levers changes into a stage, complete to footlights.

What with no rent to pay and insignificant trucking expenses, actors, between seasons, can pool their savings and extend Broadway to the limits of the Lincoln Highway.

The mountains are fast coming to Mohamet. Backwoods folk whose women went mad from isolation and monotony are no longer out of the world. Phonographs, wireless and the gasoline engine have conferred their greatest blessings in the remotest corners of the land.

A Nest for Sea-Hawks

The Langley, floating nest for naval hawks, docks at Washington for presidential inspection. This extraordinary vessel has elevators to move hydroplanes from storage berth to flying deck. Catapults that hurl them in the air as David shot rocks from his sling, and "fiddle string gear" to ease the shock of landing.

Now that we know it can be done, let's build some more.

Incidentally, how language keeps growing! Every invention produces its own peculiar vocabulary. Familiarize yourself with virgin words and terms as they appear. Dictionaries can't keep up with the news.

An Unprospected Gold Mine

If capital would only get its feet off the ground and take advantage of upstairs opportunity! Aviation still knocks in vain at the doors of finance. Even Henry Ford refuses to prospect the gold mines in the heavens.

One would think that the enormous takings from the automobile industry, itself a comparative infant, would inspire more faith in the possibilities of fly-wagons.

According to the National City Bank, we exported one and a half billion dollars worth of motor vehicles, parts and tires since 1913. Europe can't seem to get the hang of mass production. Foreigners have always relied upon us for sewing machines, big agricultural implements, steel rails and locomotives.

The Yankee remains invincible at great games, but if he doesn't quickly pook up, he'll lose out in the future's most important domain.

Transportation will wear wings whether we furnish them or not.

The Lady Who Wouldn't Give In

Corporations notoriously employ every device of the law to discourage negligence suits. The average person hasn't the means of patience to follow a case from jurisdiction to jurisdiction, and therefore yields to circumstance and makes the most of necessity.

Mrs. Margaret Curran is made of sterner stuff. She didn't give in.

In 1912 a jury awarded her $15,000 for the death of her husband, a longshoreman working for the Old Dominion Steamship Line.

The company objected to the verdict and kept the case on appeal until last week, when the original judgment was confirmed, with $10,325 added for interest and costs.

Justice may be a quibbling, fussy old frump, but here's proof that she isn't blind.
